Jayne and Alan,

Quick question based on the info below. Should I hold off on starting on the riparian buffers rationale document pending a new draft?

I am home (Ex. 6 - Personal Privacy) (and startlingly productive without a work phone or Outlook email notifications) and was going to start in on the riparian buffers document next.

If I should hold off, then please just let me know and I will turn to the forestry/pesticides document (unless there is a forestry/legacy roads rationale document in my inbox that would help you guys more if I started with first).

Please advise.

Thanks,

Steve
